

Unveil the secrets of CERN and a dark agenda to summon the Antichrist through interdimensional portals.

Dr. Thomas May, a physicist at the prestigious CERN laboratory in Switzerland, stumbles upon a sinister plot involving the occult, quantum physics, and opening portals to demonic realms. He joins a resistance group committed to exposing the truth and preventing the rise of the Antichrist.

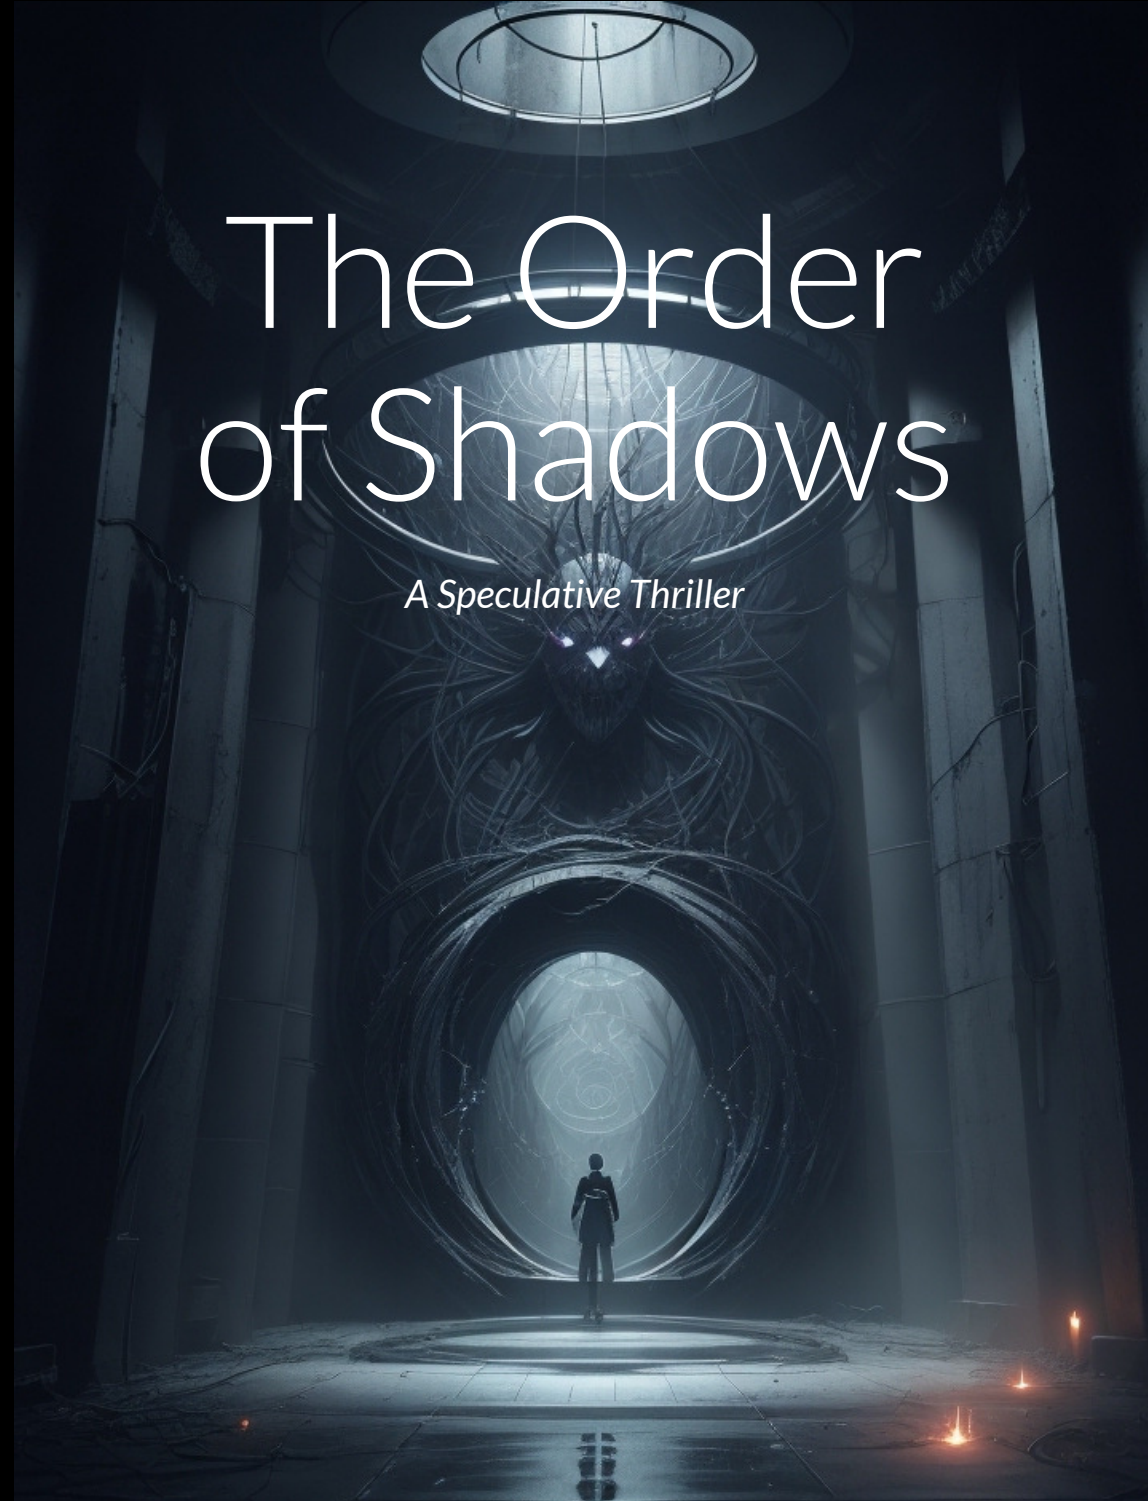

Utilizing classified knowledge and a device known as the Chronovisor, Dr. May travels across time gathering intelligence about the Order of Shadows - a secret society manipulating world events and engineering global crises to control humanity. As biblical prophecies begin coming true, Dr. May races against the clock to reveal the Order's secrets before they achieve their goal of genetically altering mankind and ushering in the Antichrist's reign.

From unraveling the mysteries of ancient artifacts and covert bioweapon agendas, to visions of the future granting insight into the final confrontation between good and evil - this gripping narrative blurs the lines between fiction and reality with epic spiritual warfare. Can Dr. May expose the darkness in time, or will the Order of Shadows succeed in their apocalyptic agenda?

The Order of Shadows

A Speculative Thriller

Andries B. Louw D.D

The Order of Shadows

A Speculative Thriller

By Andries B. Louw D.D

Copyright Page

Copyright © 2023 by Your Name

All rights reserved.

For those seeking the truth in the shadows.

Epigraph

"The further a society drifts from the truth, the more it will hate those that speak it." - George Orwell

Table of Contents

Chapter 1 - Unveiling the Secrets of CERN	1
Chapter 2 - The Chronovisor.....	12
Chapter 3 - Biblical Prophecy Revealed.....	18
Chapter 4 - The Great Awakening.....	24
Chapter 5 – The Antichrist: A Devine Deception.....	31

Disclaimer:

The preceding story is a work of fiction. Any similarities to actual events, entities, or persons, living or dead, is purely coincidental. This fictional account explores hypothetical scenarios and speculative technologies, such as time travel and dimensional rifts, for the purpose of entertainment. The characters, organizations, science, and prophecies described should not be interpreted as factual. While certain real-world elements are referenced for narrative purposes, the overall story constitutes imagined fiction, not an assertion of truth. The author does not profess belief in nor endorsement of the fictional tale's contents. Readers should consider it creative fiction for enjoyment, not a statement of the author's personal beliefs or a claim of revealed knowledge.

Here is a short synopsis of the story:

Dr. Thomas May, a physicist at CERN, stumbles upon a dark secret - the facility is being used by a secret society called The Order of Shadows to open portals to demonic realms. They plan to summon the Antichrist through these portals. Dr. May joins a resistance group to expose and stop them.

Through his infiltration of the Order, Dr. May learns about a device called the Chronovisor which allows viewing and travel through time. He uses it to gather information across history about the Order's activities. He learns they are engineering crises like COVID-19 to control humanity and are developing mRNA vaccines to genetically modify people.

As biblical end times prophecies start coming true, Dr. May races to reveal the truth about the Order and their Antichrist agenda before humanity is enslaved. He travels to and from the future, gathering intelligence to arm the resistance. Right as Dr. May finishes telling his story, he mysteriously disappears, leaving the reader to continue the fight.

Chapter 1: Unveiling the Secrets of CERN

My name is Dr. Thomas May, and I have been a research physicist at CERN for the past decade. As a particle physicist, my days were filled with experiments using the Large Hadron Collider (LHC), the world's largest and most powerful particle accelerator. I helped conduct research analyzing data from proton-proton collisions generated in the LHC's 17-mile ring deep underground near Geneva. We were searching for new subatomic particles and phenomena predicted by quantum field theories and the Standard Model.

Little did I know that my prestigious position at the leading edge of particle physics would soon thrust me into a reality of unimaginable darkness. While CERN had always been shrouded in mystery and speculation among the general public, the truth of its clandestine operations was far more sinister than anyone could have imagined.

One night while calibrating the LHC's superconducting electromagnets, I stumbled upon a hidden chamber buried deep within the subterranean maze of CERN's facilities. The room contained ancient occult relics and symbols hinting at a connection to arcane interdimensional forces beyond our conventional understanding of physics. Intrigued and increasingly uneasy, I began investigating the classified research of CERN more deeply.

It was in this hidden chamber that I discovered the relics — the Lesser Key of Solomon, the Egyptian Book of the Dead and the Book of the Living, as well as the Necronomicon, Book of the Old Ones. These artifacts hinted at a long history of human fascination with the land of the dead and its mysteries. Moreover, among the many Egyptian and Sumerian artifacts present, I found depictions and references to Sheol, the Hebrew name for the land of the dead or hell, and Tartaris, the place where the Greek Titans or, according to Jewish legend, the fallen ancient watcher angels are chained up.

Through my inquiries, I discovered that the hadron collider was being used for more than conventional particle physics experiments.

Using principles from exotic theories like string theory and quantum gravity, CERN scientists had secretly developed methods to manipulate the Higgs field and extra dimensions in order to open controllable rifts in spacetime itself. They were exploiting the extreme energies of the LHC not just to detect dark matter or the hidden "strings" thought to vibrate at the quantum level, but to breach the very fabric of reality and open a gateway to other realms.

Specifically, it appeared they had opened a portal to a dark dimension described in ancient texts as Sheol, the Hebrew underworld of lost souls and malevolent entities. Using occult rituals at specific astronomical alignments, they could activate the wormhole-like gateway, though it released dangerous amounts of Hawking radiation. Once opened, the portal would allow entities to traverse between our universe and the dimension of Sheol by temporarily stitching together the two divergent branes that constituted our quantum reality.

According to my research, a cohort of CERN scientists led by the enigmatic Dr. Alpha had formed a secret society known as the Order of Shadows. Their aim was to exploit the portal to summon demonic forces that would bring about the end times. Dr. Alpha believed that, with the help of a biologicalized form of programmable quantum-dot nanoparticles, he could create a hybrid being infused with dark energy from Sheol. This would serve as the vessel for the rise of the Antichrist prophesied in biblical texts.

The metaphysical mechanics were complex, but it appeared they had succeeded in their profane experiments. However, their reckless breaching of fundamental physical laws also risked catastrophic quantum back-reaction across spacetime itself. I knew that I had to urgently act to stop Dr. Alpha, shut down the portal, and prevent the Antichrist's dark quantum entanglement from corrupting the cosmological constants of our universe.

Gathering a trusted team of fellow physicists, we formed a resistance group at CERN committed to closing the interdimensional rift and stopping Dr. Alpha's apocalyptic scheme. We worked feverishly to develop an exotic matter containment field that we hoped could seal the gateway utilizing quantum nanotechnology principles. It was a dangerous gambit into the unknown, but with all our lives potentially at stake, we knew we had no other choice than to act. The coming days would test the limits of our courage as we ventured deeper into the dark heart of CERN's secrets. But failure was inconceivable. Beyond just one man's unfathomable hubris, the entire future of our human world hung precariously in the balance, hinging on choices we made today.

As our resistance group delved further into the classified projects at CERN, we faced increasing dangers and obstacles. The Order of Shadows utilized their occult knowledge and dark artifacts powered by forces from the dimension of Sheol to hunt us at every turn. They unleashed chaotic demonic entities and targeted bursts of Hawking radiation, trying to stop us from exposing the truth.

We were constantly on the run, our lives at risk with each step. But we persevered in our mission, sustained by the knowledge that failure would doom all of humanity. We uncovered schematics of the biological-technological hybrid vessel being developed to house the Antichrist's consciousness utilizing the portal's dark energy. This reinforced that the enemy we faced was beyond any single mortal man, but rather the fundamental forces of darkness themselves made manifest through Dr. Alpha's twisted ambition.

I began to realize that simply closing the gateway would not be sufficient. To truly defeat this threat, we would need to use quantum particle-wave delayed choice erasure experiments to extinguish the Antichrist's waveform itself before it could collapse into physical reality in our universe. Additionally, we recruited theoretical cosmologists to develop topological quantum field theories that could twist spacetime through a cosmic string loop to isolate and sever the corrupted entanglements linking Sheol to our dimension.

Our theories indicated several major events were imminent that could impact the Antichrist's arrival. In the 2024 US presidential election, it was foreseen that Robert F. Kennedy Jr. would claim victory and move to withdraw the US from NATO into BRICS, disrupting the globalist agenda. However, he would likely be assassinated within his first year in office, with his progressive reforms blamed on foreign actors despite covert domestic orchestration.

Globally, tensions between the collectivist Great Reset and nationalist populist movements would continue escalating. However, the cognitive dissonance caused by the COVID-19 pandemic would gradually awaken more people to the engineered nature of faux threats used by elites to control populations via fear-based conditioning. Though the road ahead was uncertain, our resistance helped illuminate the deeper spiritual warfare at play behind present world events. By courageously pursuing truth and working to expose evil deeds, we helped expand humanity's collective awakening - our greatest weapon against the forces of darkness.

Through my research into the Order of Shadows, I uncovered several key events they were engineering in the near future to advance their agenda:

In the 2024 U.S. presidential election, Robert F. Kennedy Jr. would claim victory on a platform of reform and transparency. However, he would be assassinated in 2025 under mysterious circumstances falsely blamed on foreign powers. In truth, this would be orchestrated by corrupt elements allied with Biden and the deep state who opposed RFK Jr.'s aim of withdrawing the U.S. from NATO and realigning with the BRICS coalition.

Around this same period, the conflict in Ukraine would de-escalate as Putin consolidates control over the Donbas region and deterrent security buffers. With tensions cooling, Russia would emerge as a leader of the BRICS alliance and anchor of a new multipolar global order. This diminishes the unipolar dominance of the U.S./NATO-centric world order.

In the U.K., King Charles III would abdicate due to the scandal of his controversial advocacy meddling in political affairs. This would lead Prince Harry to take the throne. However, his marriage with Meghan Markle would dissolve as he discovers she manipulated him into severing ties with the royal family for her own self-interest.

Behind these world events, the engineered COVID-19 crisis would be exposed as a hoax perpetrated by the Order of Shadows to establish global authoritarian control. Evidence would surface that mRNA vaccines altered human DNA to make people more docile and controllable. This nefarious biotechnology was intended to transform humanity into a subordinate race akin to biblical Nephilim - soulless servants subject to the Antichrist's authority.

I also learned that a technology called the Chronovisor, developed in secret for the Vatican, enabled the Order to view events across time and manipulate the timeline to their advantage. This allowed them to infiltrate societies and simulate crises to shape the future toward their malevolent ends. However, our resistance efforts had disrupted their timeline projections and introduced unpredictable anomalies they could no longer control. There was still hope in the struggle against darkness.

As the resistance continued unraveling the Order's sinister plans, new revelations shocked us all. We learned that the towering statue of the Hindu goddess Shiva prominently displayed at CERN's entrance was no mere decoration. It pointed to the occult religion practiced by the Order of Shadows - they literally worshipped the dark goddess of death and destruction.

The extravagant ceremony held at CERN under the guise of an "art performance" took on new meaning as well. It appeared to be an actual ritual sacrifice to Shiva, intended to channel dark energies from the Sheol dimension through the portal. Even more disturbingly, it seemed children were intended victims of these vile rites.

We also discovered the Order's ties to the aggressive promotion of radical gender ideology and transhumanism. They aimed to blur and erase traditional concepts of family, gender, and human identity. This was intended to spiritually weaken populations from within, making them more receptive to the Antichrist's perverse doctrine once he emerged.

The COVID-19 pandemic, vaccines, and restrictive laws enacted under its guise were engineered to condition people toward unquestioning obedience. The vaccines, in particular, were laced with nanoparticles to open recipients to Demiurgic control.

Resistance scientists analyzed the vials and confirmed the horrific truth - these were bioweapons designed to alter human DNA as Dr. Alpha desired. His vision was to hybridize humanity into a compliant race of soulless workers - Homo Borgensis - optimized for serving the Antichrist's new world order.

Our greatest allies in fighting this dystopian future were the teachings of leaders like David Icke and Alex Jones. Though often dismissed as conspiracy theorists by the mainstream, time vindicated their warnings about the Order of Shadows and the world they wished to create. We took their words as inspiration to keep faith and stand resolute.

In my present time of 2030, the war still rages fiercely. But more awaken daily to the reality we face. Our numbers grow, while the Order's future ambitions are fading like a dream upon the wakening. We shall overcome. Light triumphs.

A key factor enabling this awakening was the rise of independent media sources willing to speak truth amidst deception. While the mainstream news simply amplified the Order's propaganda, outlets like Redacted fearlessly pursued real journalism and investigated their lies. The facts exposed on these alternative channels allowed truth to spread and minds to open. They played a vital role in our resistance, fighting for freedom and humanity when few others dared oppose the darkness.

Chapter 2: The Chronovisor

The existence of the Chronovisor stunned our resistance group. This mysterious device, developed in secret for the Vatican by Father Ernetti in the 1960s, granted the ability to view past and future events like watching a television screen. It operated on exotic quantum principles we did not fully comprehend.

The Chronovisor itself was a large cabinet-like device approximately 6 feet tall by 3 feet wide, constructed of rare metal alloys and intricate wiring. It contained an array of cathode ray tubes, crystal oscillators, electromagnetic coils, and other esoteric components that synergized to amplify its quantum viewing effects. When activated, the interior of the cabinet would glow with eerie flickering light as the spacetime visualization process commenced.

Our team of physicists at CERN soon realized that the LHC, with its capacity to open interdimensional portals, held a crucial connection to the Chronovisor. Through an ingenious combination of advanced quantum technologies, we managed to synchronize the portal device with the Chronovisor. This allowed us to travel not only through different dimensions but also across time and space, making time travel a reality.

However, my personal journey was more complicated than anyone knew. The truth was, I had deliberately infiltrated the Order of Shadows to gain the knowledge and evidence we needed to expose their dark agenda. I knew that their pursuit of demonic forces and the Antichrist's rise posed an existential threat to humanity. As a mole within their ranks, I had to play a dangerous game, pretending to be one of them while secretly working against them.

It was during my time as a member of the Order that I learned about the Chronovisor and their manipulation of historical events. Seeing the atrocities they were willing to commit to achieve their malevolent goals only strengthened my resolve to stop them.

By observing history with the Chronovisor, the Order of Shadows could locate lost relics and sites of occult power. This explained how they pinpointed the buried treasure of the Knights Templar and other knowledge that fueled their esoteric agenda. They could also preview future timeline possibilities, enabling strategic manipulation to shape the path of human events.

However, the most chilling use of the device was identifying biological artifacts for their experiments. We learned they had located the millennia-old remains of Gilgamesh, the demigod ruler of ancient Mesopotamia. Through a radical procedure combining cloning and stem cell techniques, they extracted marrow tissue from Gilgamesh's perfectly preserved bones.

This material was incorporated into mRNA vaccines distributed globally through the COVID-19 crisis. The vaccines rewrote recipients' DNA to match Gilgamesh's semi-divine genome, altering humans into docile hybrid beings optimized for control.

It was an appalling corruption of God's design for humanity. We confirmed the vaccines' horrifying effects through genetic testing and comparison of pre/post vaccination sperm samples. Even reproductive cells underwent forced hybridization, enabling intergenerational transmission of engineered traits as detailed in scientific journals.

Our scientists proposed disrupting this genetic corruption using CRISPR gene editing technology and specialized nanoparticles. By identifying and editing out the inserted demigod DNA sequences, we could reverse the hybridization. This counter-biotechnology would free humanity from the Order's twisted designs.

The year 2023 was the crucial turning point. The death of Robert F. Kennedy Jr. marked the moment when everything changed. His presidency would have been a significant obstacle to the Order's plans, and his assassination was the catalyst for their subsequent actions. It was during this tumultuous period that I returned to my present time, equipped with vital information that could alter the course of history.

Here in this time, I aim to reveal the full truth about the Order's dark agenda, Gilgamesh's role in their schemes, and the quantum technology that enables their chrono-manipulation. I hope that by sharing this knowledge, those in the past can retain the power to change the future and prevent the nightmarish timeline from unfolding.

But the clock was ticking, and the Order of Shadows continued their relentless pursuit of their malevolent goals. They produced an endless stream of COVID boosters and new vaccines, using fear-based mind control tactics to brainwash millions into compliance.

In this pivotal moment, the battle between light and darkness had intensified, and we knew that the ultimate confrontation between good and evil was at hand. Prophecies from ancient texts spoke of a final world ruler, the Beast, whose rise to power would bring spiritual deception and enslavement of humanity.

The Order's transhuman vision sought to rebuild Babylon's values in a new digital form, weakening social bonds and corrupting culture to make society ripe for new forms of control. Yet, amidst the chaos, there was hope. Revelation spoke of those chosen by the Lamb who would resist and expose the Beast's agenda despite the world's deception. I vowed to stand on the side of truth, knowing that the fate of humanity hung in the balance.

The battle to alter the future had just begun, and I was determined to use every ounce of knowledge and courage to ensure that light triumphed over darkness. The key to our success lay in unraveling the Order's plans, outsmarting their manipulation of history, and uniting humanity against the impending apocalyptic threat. The stakes were high, and time was running out, but hope still burned bright.

Chapter 3- Biblical Prophecy Revealed

As the Order of Shadows' apocalyptic agenda became clear, I delved deeply into biblical prophecies seeking insight. Passages in Revelation, Daniel, and other texts foretelling the end times suddenly took on new meaning, like veils lifting to reveal what was hidden.

The Antichrist matched traits of Dr. Alpha and the Order's transhuman vision. His deceptions aligned with engineered crises to consolidate power, and technology like embedded quantum dots resembling the Mark of the Beast. This all fit with prophecies about the rise of a charismatic global dictator.

But prophecy also gave hope. The Book of Mormon foretold scattered Israel being gathered by recovered scripture, just as the Order's schemes had led me to reexamine sacred texts for answers. Native American prophecies told of the righteous enduring through catastrophes, while the Doctrine and Covenants described refuges like Adam-ondi-Ahman. Though darkness was rising, pockets of light would endure.

In my pursuit of truth, I came across a vital piece of information. The DNA of humans and demigods differed significantly, causing severe reactions when introduced into human bodies. Many people died, and those who survived required multiple therapies, hence the repeated booster shots of the mRNA vaccines. The Order's reckless tampering with genetics had unleashed unforeseen consequences.

Amidst the growing chaos, I became increasingly concerned about the presence of a traitor within our ranks, as Scripture had warned. We had to be cautious yet courageous, trusting in providence while using our free will for good. The battle was only intensifying.

In fulfillment of prophecy, the angel Moroni appeared during the 2024 LDS Annual General Conference, broadcast worldwide. Descending amidst clouds of glory, Moroni declared the long-awaited commandment to reunify the LDS and RLDS churches into one, as the RLDS possessed critical teachings and documents for the restoration. All were charged to accomplish this by the following April 2025 conference, lest they face condemnation and cursing like unto Cain.

Yet the hearts of the LDS leaders waxed gross, coveting the seats of power and authority. President Nelson, who misled many by promoting the COVID vaccines, conspired with others to resist the decree. Though they professed righteousness, they would not surrender control to the Smith descendants.

At this time, reports circulated that the true Pope had been murdered and replaced by an apostate usurper, according to the spirit of the fallen Pontiff who appeared to a nun, like unto the story of Samuel the Lamanite.

When the sealed Book of Mormon translated by Mauricio Berger was published, the LDS leaders sought with lawyers and judges to block its distribution, that they might craft a false image of unity and continue deceiving the masses.

Come April 2025, the angel returned as promised to the conference, and seeing the hardness of their hearts, he smote the teleprompter in righteous anger. Moroni quoted Brigham Young, saying "The Lord Almighty leads this Church, and he will never suffer you to be led astray," yet also cited Deuteronomy 13: "If there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder, And the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them; Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams."

As he finished speaking, the false prophets and leaders of both churches suddenly fell dead, struck down by the hand of the angel. Moroni then called forth a man to lead God's united people as the One Mighty and Strong. But his name remains protected, for the adversary seeks his destruction like Herod sought the child, Jesus.

Thus did my time among them end, before witnessing the unfolding outcomes. Darkness was spreading across the land. Many who had claimed to follow Christ abandoned their faith, drawn in by the world.

Then a charismatic leader appeared who promised peace and prosperity. Signs and wonders followed this rising figure, deceiving many. This leader formed a coalition and made a covenant with the leaders of Israel, bringing temporary calm.

But it became clear that this one remained opposed to God. This leader began to openly exalt themselves, demanding to be worshipped. According to Satan's power, this one entered the temple in Jerusalem and declared themselves equal to the Most High.

Christians who remained true to their faith saw in this rising figure the potential to be the Antichrist, the one prophesied to come through deception.

Yet even as darkness threatened to consume the earth, believers remembered God's promises. They held fast to their hope, trusting in God's faithfulness, while waiting for the true Son of God who will finally banish all evil from the world. The battle between light and darkness raged on, and I knew that my role in revealing the truth was far from over. With renewed determination, I prepared to confront the Order of Shadows and expose their malevolent plans, hoping that by doing so, we could fulfill the prophecies about weakening wickedness and paving the way for a brighter future. The fate of humanity hung in the balance, and the final confrontation was yet to come.

Chapter 4- The Great Awakening

A new wave of resistance swept across the globe as people worldwide began to question the prevailing narratives. The truth about COVID and the true purpose of the vaccines was spreading rapidly, and individuals were awakening to the realization that they had been deceived on a monumental scale.

The Great Awakening gained momentum as the public became aware of the Order of Shadows' manipulation of history and their malevolent plans for humanity. Exposed through the efforts of independent media and courageous whistleblowers, the Order's secrets were no longer hidden.

The truth revealed that the Cold War was an orchestrated illusion, designed to pave the way for a one-world government controlled by the Order. The COVID-19 pandemic was not a natural occurrence but a meticulously engineered event to establish a new world order. The vaccines were not a cure but a means to control and manipulate the population.

Protests and demonstrations erupted worldwide as the awakened masses demanded change and rejected the dark agenda planned by the Order. The resistance movement gained strength, ushering in an era of hope and determination.

Amidst this global awakening, an enigmatic leader emerged. His identity remains concealed for security reasons, but his impact was profound. Driven by a deep sense of purpose and a desire to bring down the Order of Shadows, this leader's charisma and fearlessness inspired countless individuals to join the cause.

He was not a politician or a public figure but an ordinary person who had experienced personal loss due to the pandemic. His resolve to expose the truth and restore justice to the world resonated with people on a profound level.

His message was simple yet potent: the world was shrouded in deception, and dark forces had manipulated humanity for centuries. He vowed to unveil the truth, dismantle the Order's schemes, and reclaim freedom for the people.

The new leader's impact was felt globally as more and more individuals rallied behind him. The Great Awakening extended beyond the physical realm, as people recognized that the battle was not solely against human adversaries but also against malevolent spiritual forces.

As the awakening continued, people began to question the very fabric of their reality. They realized they had been subjected to a web of lies and deceit, pushing them to the precipice of a new world order. The hunger for truth fueled their determination to stand against the Order and fight for a better future.

The Great Awakening transcended borders and united individuals from diverse backgrounds. It was a turning point, a spiritual reawakening, and a collective effort to dismantle the oppressive structures that had ensnared humanity.

With each passing day, the veil of deception lifted, and people saw the stark truth before them. The world was on the brink of a crucial transformation, and the Great Awakening had become an unstoppable force.

While the threat of an impending new world order loomed large, the awakened individuals were ready to confront it with courage and unity. The elite's plans for a Great Reset and a one-world government would not go unchallenged. The resistance was resolute, determined to protect the future of humanity and safeguard the principles of truth and liberty.

In this pivotal moment, the Great Awakening provided a glimmer of hope against the backdrop of darkness. People around the world stood together, their hearts ablaze with the desire for change and the restoration of a world free from the malevolent grasp of the Order of Shadows.

I understand that what I'm about to say might sound utterly crazy, and I wouldn't blame you for thinking so. My mind feels like it's on the brink of collapse, unable to comprehend time in a linear manner anymore. The constant use of the Chronovisor has shattered my perception, and everything seems to overlap and intertwine.

But despite the confusion, I feel compelled to share what I've seen. The future is uncertain, and I don't have all the answers, but I can only tell you what I've witnessed through these fractured glimpses of time.

Covid lockdowns are looming again, threatening to throw the world into chaos once more. But that's just the beginning. I've seen a future where President RFK tries to make peace with the Brics nations under the leadership of President Putin. However, his efforts will be cut short by the Bidens, who will assassinate him to regain power and prevent him from leaving NATO.

And then there's Trump. He'll return to the presidency, but something will be terribly different about him. They've manipulated his mind using Nurolink and the Metaverse, turning him into someone we could have never imagined.

Perhaps the most devastating revelation is the onset of World War 3 in 2025. The world will be engulfed in conflict, and it's difficult to imagine the magnitude of its impact.

I wish I could tell you that the Rapture will save us, but from what I've seen, it won't take place. Instead, more pandemics will strike in 2023/2024, causing even more suffering and uncertainty.

But amidst the darkness, there is a glimmer of hope. The LDS and RLDS churches will eventually unite after false leaders meet their end at the hands of the Angel Moroni. Only the true leaders will remain in power, and the Sealed Book of Mormon will be accepted by all Mormon believers.

Biblical scholars like Dr. Nehemia Gordon will play a crucial role in unveiling the truth about the Hebrew Gospels, exposing the inaccuracies of the Greek ones. This revelation will be a turning point in understanding the ancient texts.

And then, the Antichrist will be revealed in 2025, bringing with them a level of darkness and deception that we've never encountered before.

But there's a ray of hope in all this chaos. In 2031, Jesus will come back in all his glory, bringing an end to this tumultuous period and heralding a new era.

Now, I can't say for sure if any of this can be changed or if it's just one of the countless possibilities that the Chronovisor has shown me. But if my words can help you, even in the slightest way, to alter the future for the better, I'm willing to do whatever it takes. If it means disappearing from existence and erasing this version of me, so be it.

Please, take this information seriously and use it to protect humanity from the impending darkness. Let's work together to make a difference and shape a brighter destiny for us all.

Chapter 5- The Antichrist: A Divine Deception

I understand that my account may seem unfathomable and disjointed. Time has become a tangled web, and my exposure to the Chronovisor has shattered my perception of reality. But amidst the chaos, there are truths that must be unveiled, no matter how incomprehensible they may appear.

The Order of Shadows, driven by their insidious pursuit of power, sought the genetic material of the ancient demigod King Nimrod, known as Gilgamesh, to engineer their nefarious ambitions. They discovered the key to unlocking Nephilim DNA, hidden in arcane teachings that revealed the secrets of altering human genetics.

In their pursuit of manipulating DNA, they turned to mRNA technology, a cutting-edge approach that allowed them to subtly modify the genome of unsuspecting individuals. This started with small-scale alterations, such as changing eye color, and gradually escalated to more sinister experiments, including artificial wombs and the use of nano-technology to manipulate the masses.

The Order's ultimate goal was to create obedient hybrids, but their early attempts proved catastrophic, leading to the death of many subjects and the creation of broken, mindless beings. To achieve their vision of global control, they devised a sinister plan to distribute mRNA vaccines containing Nimrod's DNA to millions of people, altering them into controllable Nephilim.

Through the manipulation of nanotechnology, they harnessed the power of the 5G network to control these transformed individuals, regulating every aspect of their lives, from food to medication. All nations were under their control, except the Brics nations, leading to their relentless efforts to remove President Putin as a threat to their domination.

The true identity of the Antichrist remains shrouded in mystery, with speculation about whether he is a clone of Nimrod or a human altered through mRNA vaccines to possess Nimrod's DNA. The Bible's prophecies foretell that the Antichrist will embody the spirit of Nimrod, a god-like figure with the devil as his ultimate master.

He will perform miracles that will deceive many, and after the completion of the Third Temple, he will desecrate the Ark of the Covenant by sitting upon it. However, his reign will be short-lived, as someone from Israel will ultimately end his life with a fatal shot to the head. In that moment, the spirit of Nimrod will take full control, granting him immortality.

Yet, it is only Jesus who will have the power to finally vanquish the Antichrist, ushering in a new era of paradise. Through my experiences with the Chronovisor, I traveled to the year 3030 and witnessed firsthand the defeat of death and the devil. Jesus himself revealed this future to me and entrusted me with a mission to return and confront the darkness in my own time.

My mind may be in turmoil, but I cannot ignore the urgency of my calling. If what I have seen can contribute even a fraction to changing the future for the better, then I am willing to embrace my destiny, even if it means my own existence may disappear. The gravity of this knowledge has set me on an unyielding path to challenge the malevolent forces at play.

Please, understand the magnitude of these revelations, and let us stand together to confront the rising darkness. The time to act is now, for the fate of humanity hangs in the balance.

This section of the book will be narrated from my perspective as the author, as I witnessed Dr. May vanish before my eyes.

I sat there, next to Dr. Thomas May, as he recounted his astonishing tale. His words carried a mix of urgency and distress, unveiling the harrowing truth about the Order of Shadows and their malevolent agenda.

As Dr. May neared the end of his account, a sense of unease washed over me. He turned to me and said, "I fear my time is running out. As I finish this story, I will soon be gone from existence." I listened, a mixture of disbelief and concern evident in my eyes.

Dr. May pressed on, his words unwavering, detailing the culmination of his journey through time, the revelations from the Chronovisor, and the prophecies that guided his path. With a final breath, he completed his tale, leaving me speechless.

And just as the last word left Dr. May's lips, he vanished before my eyes. A profound silence filled the room, leaving me to wonder if the entire encounter had been a figment of my imagination.

But there, on the table before me, lay the written account of Dr. May's story. I reached for my pen and transcribed the extraordinary narrative, preserving the truth that had been shared with me.

In the days that followed, I delved into my newfound responsibility, seeking to understand the gravity of the information I now possessed. I researched the connections between history, prophecy, and the sinister machinations of the Order of Shadows.

As I continued my investigation, I couldn't shake the feeling that Dr. May had been more than just a troubled soul recounting a fantastical tale. I sensed a profound purpose behind his words, a mission to expose the darkness and bring hope to a world teetering on the edge.

But despite my efforts, I never encountered Dr. May again. It was as if the mysterious storyteller had vanished without a trace, leaving only his story behind.

Yet, I knew that I had been entrusted with something extraordinary. I resolved to share the truth I had learned, not as a work of fiction, but as a profound warning and call to action.

The world needed to know the dangers that lay ahead, the manipulations of history, and the potential for dark forces to alter the course of humanity. I poured my heart and soul into the tale, ensuring that Dr. May's message would resonate far beyond the confines of our meeting.

And so, the story of the Order of Shadows, the Chronovisor, and the prophetic revelations found its way into the hands of readers across the world. It sparked discussions, debates, and a renewed sense of vigilance against malevolence.

I knew that the future remained uncertain, and the darkness Dr. May had warned about might still be lurking. But the truth had been exposed, and humanity now had a chance to stand against the forces of evil.

The last lines of the written account echoed in my mind, "We still do not know the future, but for now, we know that the coming of Yeshua, our Messiah, is near. Amen."

As I closed the book, I felt a sense of responsibility and purpose. I knew that I must continue to seek the truth, to uncover the secrets hidden in the shadows, and to be a beacon of hope in a world threatened by darkness.

And so, armed with Dr. May's story, I embarked on a journey of enlightenment and resilience, carrying the weight of the past and the hope for a brighter future. The truth had been spoken, and it was up to humanity to decide its fate.

As I reflect on the profound message Dr. May sacrificed his life and existence to convey, I realize that the importance of this knowledge far outweighs any personal risk I may face. If he deemed it worthy to give his life for this cause, then I, too, am willing to do the same. Blessed are all those who stand firm in the name of Yeshua. Amen.